10 AND RELATED CLAIMS

11 IT is STIPULATED AND AGREED by and between the parties, acting through their 12 counsel, pursuant to FRCP 26(c) and LR 16.1-4. as follows:

13 1. Disclosure and discovery activity in this action are likely to involve production of 14 confidential, proprietary or private information for which special protection from public
15 disclosure and from use for any purpose other than prosecuting this litigation may be warranted.
16 Accordingly, the parties hereby stipulate to and petition the Court to enter the following
17 Stipulated Protective Order. The parties acknowledge that this Order does not confer blanket 18 protections on all disclosures or responses to discovery and that the protection it affords from 19 public disclosure and use extends only to the limited information or items that are entitled to 20 confidential treatment under the applicable legal principles.

21 2. The parties may designate as confidential any document or evidence produced in 22 discovery which relates in any manner to non-public information that a party alleges is 23 confidential, private, proprietary or trade secret material. Such designation shall occur by 24 stamping "CONFIDENTIAL" to each page that contains protected material.

25 3. Documents designated confidential pursuant to paragraph 1 may be distributed
26 only to (a) a party or counsel of record for the parties and by them to their staffs; (b) deponents
27 during the course of their depositions; (c) deposition notaries and their staff; (d) a party's 28 retained experts; and, (e) professional vendors i.e. persons or entities that provide litigation support services (e.g., photocopying, videotaping, translating, preparing exhibits or demonstrations, and organizing, storing, or retrieving data in any form or medium) and their employees and subcontractors.

4. Documents designated confidential pursuant to paragraph 2 and disclosed to persons described in paragraph 3 shall be treated by them as confidential, for use solely in this lawsuit. Such documents, or the contents thereof, shall not be disclosed to anyone to whom access to such documents is not permitted under paragraph 3. Documents designated confidential may be used by them solely in this litigation, and for not for any other purpose.

5. No copies of documents designated confidential shall be made except by a party's counsel of record. Any counsel making or causing to be made copies of confidential documents shall maintain all copies within his/her possession or within the possession of those entitled to access to confidential documents under paragraph 3.

6. Prior to dissemination of documents designated confidential or the contents thereof to a person described in paragraph 3, that person shall:

- (i) Be advised by counsel making such dissemination of the terms of this Stipulation and Protective Order;
- (ii) Read this Stipulation and Protective Order; and
- (iii) Sign the "Acknowledgement and Agreement to Be Bound" that is attached hereto as Exhibit A thereby becoming subject to this Stipulation and Protective Order.

7. Any brief, memorandum, or other document submitted to the Court by a party that discloses information contained in a confidential document shall be filed under seal, unless otherwise ordered by the Court.

8. To the extent that documents designated confidential are used as deposition exhibits or are referred to in the course of depositions, that portion of the transcript of such depositions shall be treated as confidential and shall be filed under seal.

9. If any party intends to offer into evidence or otherwise disclose in open court any document designated confidential, counsel for the proponent shall give reasonable notice of such intention to the party that designated the document as confidential, who may take such steps as

1 are reasonably necessary and approved by the Court to preserve the confidentiality of such 2 document.

3 10. The inadvertent production by any party in the course of discovery of a document
4 subject to a claim of attorney client privilege, work product, or other statutory or court-ordered
5 confidentiality, will not result in a waiver of any of the foregoing protections in these or any 6 other proceedings, for the produced document.

7 CHALLENGING CONFIDENTIALITY DESIGNATIONS

8 11. Timing of Challenges. Any party may challenge a designation of confidentiality
9 at any time.

10 12. Meet and Confer. The challenging party shall initiate the dispute resolution
11 process by providing written notice of each designation it is challenging and describing the basis
12 for each challenge. The parties shall attempt to resolve each challenge in good faith and must 13 begin the process by conferring directly

14 13. Judicial Intervention. If the Parties cannot resolve a challenge without court 15 intervention, the designating party may file and serve a motion to retain confidentiality or the 16 challenging party may file a motion challenging a confidentiality designation. All parties shall 17 continue to afford the material in question the level of protection to which it is entitled under the 18 producing party's designation until the Court rules on the challenge.

19 FINAL DISPOSITION

20 14. At the final disposition of this action, counsel has the option to return to the 21 producing party or destroy any and all copies of confidential documents, notes, extracts,
22 summaries, and other materials that contain information derived from documents designated
23 confidential, except as required to be maintained under the lawyer's ethical duties. Final 24 disposition shall be deemed to be the later of (1) dismissal of all claims and defenses in this 25 action, with or without prejudice; and (2) final judgment herein after the completion and 26 exhaustion of all appeals, rehearings, remands, trials, or reviews of this action, including the time
